wonderful feats while he was on board.

The special trial of the boat, with the President on board, took place between 2 and 6 o'clock this afternoon in Long Island Sound, just off the entrance to Oyster Bay. Just as soon as the President had descended into the boat the manholes were closed, and, conveyed by the naval tender Apache, the Plunger started for the Sound. No manœuvres were attempted until the vessel was well beyond the entrance to the bay. A stiff northeast breeze which had been blowing since last night kicked up a heavy sea in the Sound, but the Plunger behaved beautifully. The water where the top of the boat was about four feet deep, too shallow, in the opinion of Lieut. Nelson and his experts, to enable the vessel to do her best work. Soon after the vessel reached the necessary depth of water, she was directed downward until she rested on the bottom of the Sound. Then the mechanism of the craft was explained minutely to the President by Lieut. Nelson, so that afterward he experienced no difficulty in understanding the manœuvres which were performed.

While the President was resting on the bottom of the Sound in a submarine boat, a storm forty feet above him was raging unheeded. The rain descended in torrents, and the northeast whirled the surface of the water into big rollers, but it was quiet and peaceful where the President sat.

Explanations having been completed, Lieut. Nelson began to put the Plunger through her paces. From the bottom, porpoise diving was tried. That is, the boat would ascend to the surface long enough for her commander to sight any warship that might be in view, and dive again. After this manœuver had been repeated a few times, the Plunger went down to a depth of twenty feet below the surface and her engines stopped. Then the engines were reversed, and the boat ascended to the surface backward. Lieut. Nelson made his boat perform this remarkable feat of diving to a depth of twenty feet, and while going at full speed at that depth, reversing her course. The complete turn occupied one minute. Subsequently, the engines were stopped and the vessel was submerged to a depth of twenty feet. There she was kept motionless, a demonstration of her ability to remain in that position for hours while awaiting an opportunity to launch one of her torpedoes at a vessel of a blockading squadron which might be passing or repassing a given point.

After many manœuvres had been performed, Lieut. Nelson ordered all the lights on board to be extinguished to demonstrate how thoroughly the members of his crew knew their business. They worked perfectly in the inky darkness, evidently with as much skill and ease as if they performed their duties in the glare of the electric light.

During the operations of the Plunger, the tender Apache remained within a short distance, prepared to render any assistance that might be necessary.

She was not needed, however, and the Plunger returned to her mooring near the J. West Roosevelt pier without an untoward accident.

The President shook hands with all the crew as he left the vessel to return to Sagamore Hill.

In describing his experience tonight, the President expressed great satisfaction in the manner in which the Plunger was managed. He remarked particularly on the readiness of the submarine boats in actual warfare. He related the details of his experience with evident pleasure. Nobody, not even the members of his family, was aware of the President's intention to make the descent in the Plunger except, of course, Lieut. Nelson. One result of the secrecy maintained by the President was that the Plunger had practically the entire Long Island Sound to herself. There was scarcely a vessel in sight, all pleasure craft having been driven to shelter by the heavy storm.

Tomorrow, at 9:30 o'clock in the morning, the Plunger will go out to the Sound for another test trip. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt, with a party of friends will attend the manœuvres of the vessel from the decks of the Sylph.

LAWYERS FINALLY QUIET.

Conclude Their Labors With a Set of Resolutions on Question of Life Insurance.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

NARRAGANSETT, R. I., Aug. 25.—The delegates to the annual session of the American Bar Association held their final sessions here today.

The special order for today was the consideration of the majority and minority reports of the Insurance Law Committee. The majority report recommended legislation by Congress providing for the Federal supervision of insurance; the repeal of all valued policy laws; a uniform life policy, the terms of which shall be subject to the approval of the Federal government; the creation of Federal courts for the use of mails to all persons associations or correspondents transacting the business of insurance in disregard of State and Federal regulations. The minority report presented by W. R. Vance declares that no reason has been shown why the business of insurance should be regarded as interstate commerce. Therefore, the report says it is clear that the regulation and control of the business is beyond the powers of the Federal government. It is the opinion of the minority that Federal supervision, if it were constitutionally possible, would probably retard many of the existing evils, but that such supervision is not possible without a certain official quarter. The report characterizes existing methods of State regulation as "most defective" as they are inefficient in preventing "wild cat" companies from engaging in the business and are needlessly expensive to the policy holders who in the last analysis bear the expense. Incident to the business of a motion to refer the resolution to the Insurance Committee on Insurance Laws was passed after considerable discussion.

George S. Peck was elected president. The convention passed a resolution commending President Roosevelt's endeavors to bring about peace between Russia and Japan.

The League of American Municipalities concluded its convention at Toledo yesterday by selecting Chicago as the next meeting place. R. G. Rhett of Charleston, S. C., was elected president.

PEACE.

"It was official, I understand," responded the Baron, "and so I suppose we must swallow it."

"What do you think of the prospect of a successful issue to the peace conference?"

Baron Kaneko hesitated an instant, and then with a shrug of his shoulders, replied: "Oh, it is very much like the weather down here, very much."

Rain was falling heavily, and the weather was dark, gloomy and disagreeable. The Baron added: "Japan wants peace, but we want peace with justice. Russia wants peace with honor. Those desires are not incompatible. We may have peace yet. I hope so."

EMPEROR WITH EMPEROR. THE PRESIDENT MEDIATING. (BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

OYSTER BAY, Aug. 25.—Two Emperors, one at St. Petersburg and the other at Tokyo, are the determining factors in the pending peace negotiations. Although the negotiations temporarily are suspended at Portsmouth, they are proceeding actively through the President at Sagamore Hill. He is in constant communication with the St. Petersburg and Tokyo governments. By both of the warring nations his good offices have been sought, and his efforts to bring their plenipotentiaries into accord, and thus prevent a failure of the peace conference, are unremitting.

Early in the day the President had an extended conference with Baron Kaneko, the recognized confidential agent of the Japanese government in this country. Neither the President nor Baron Kaneko would discuss the details of the conference. While the Baron's expressed views of the peace negotiations were not optimistic, he left a distinct impression that the last word by no means had been spoken.

He protested that Japan had no wish to do anything to humiliate Russia, but expressed the belief that the Japanese terms were quite reasonable and that no further concessions would be made.

After the departure of Baron Kaneko, the President was engaged with Acting Secretary Barnes for two hours in the consideration of dispatches received and in the preparation of those to be sent.

LAMSDORFF DISCLAIMER.

The disclaimer of the Russian Foreign Office of the statement purporting to have been made yesterday by Count Lamsdorff, Minister for Foreign Affairs, declaring that Russia would pay no indemnity to Japan under any guise, or make any concession of territory, was received by the President with satisfaction. It indicated no willingness on the part of Russia to accede to Japan's terms as to indemnity, but the disclaimer is regarded as leaving the way open for further discussion of terms that may lead to a satisfactory conclusion of the conference.

Whether the negotiations now being conducted through the President will have reached such a state by the hour at which the conference are to reassemble at Portsmouth tomorrow as to enable them to proceed with important considerations, is regarded as doubtful.

It appears to be likely that the envoys will meet after a perfunctory session, adjourn until Monday, or possibly until Tuesday. This adjournment will afford them ample time to receive and consider instructions from their respective governments which will be based on exchanges now in progress between Sagamore Hill and St. Petersburg and Tokyo.

A. MAURICE LOW'S PREDICTION.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 25.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) A. Maurice Low, the well-known diplomatic correspondent, says tonight:

"The Japanese are somewhat nettled over what looks to be at first blush a Russian attempt to draw them into a corner and to intimidate them into an abandonment of their entire claim for money payments. But they do not believe the attempt is made with serious intention; nor with the determination to play the game out to the end. They still regard it as an extremely adroit maneuver to secure a cheap settlement."

"I have excellent reasons for saying that tomorrow the conference will not end in a rupture. Nothing of the sort will happen. Russia will take a less uncompromising attitude. Counter proposals are to be made, and the negotiations will extend over a week or ten days."

LATEST FROM PETERSBURG.

HOPE OF A COMPROMISE.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 25, 2 a.m.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Everybody in St. Petersburg is awaiting the developments of today in the peace moves and hoping that a compromise is being effected, the most likely basis of which is a moderate reduction of indemnity, but a payment for Sakhalin, to be left for future adjustment.

In fact, it was asserted yesterday in an exceptionally well-informed quarter that this was the only possible basis for a compromise.

The belief is expressed in some quarters that there will be no session at Portsmouth today, and the Associated Press is informed on excellent authority that a further adjournment could be taken as a most hopeful sign, as it would prove that serious efforts are being made to reach a compromise.

Up to 8 o'clock last evening, Ambassador Meyer had received no message from Washington. The idea that the President might again communicate with the Emperor through the American Ambassador finds credence in a certain official quarter.

The change of telegrams between Portsmouth and the Foreign Office continues, but the nature of these dispatches is a carefully guarded secret. It can be asserted, however, on the best authority that any suggestion to Russia from any source whatever that she accept the payment of indemnity would be most unwelcome, though a sincere desire for peace leaves her open to the proposition of a compromise on other grounds.

Russia is showing no nervousness regarding the outcome of the negotiations. President Roosevelt's dispatches and evidences of confidence in his decision and the course he is pursuing is contemplated with great satisfaction. It is all that can be noticed among all intelligent classes.

Peace or the continuance of the war is a matter of great importance to the world. In fact, the disasters of Liao Yang, Mukden and the Sea of Japan seem almost to have been forgotten. One hears frequent expressions of confidence in the ability of the army in Manchuria to defeat the Japanese. This confidence is based upon the many reports which have been received here of the good condition of the troops, the advantageous positions they hold, and the improved morale of the whole army.

Behind Russia's refusal to pay an indemnity there is not only one determination not to do an unjust thing, which is without precedent in Russian history, but the belief that the payment of an indemnity would permit Japan soon to assume the aggressive again. The Russian government must consider, Siberia, and in the course of time, Russia's influence on the Pacific is bound to expand. She wants to be rid for as long a time as possible, of the menace of Japanese aggression, which indemnity would make possible.

GOSSIP FROM THE CAPITALS.

LIVELY CONFERENCE AT TOKIO FOLLOWS CABLEGRAM.

Demand for Adequate Indemnity Remains Unalterable—Press Favors Continuance of the War—New Anglo-Japanese Treaty of Alliance May Have Been Signed.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

TOKIO, Aug. 25.—[By Asiatic Cable.] Following the receipt of a cablegram from Baron Komura, Premier Katsura and Secretary-General of Foreign Affairs, Chinda called today to a lively conference.

It is believed that important developments are forthcoming. Premier Katsura is receiving hundreds of letters, telegrams and memorials urging insistence on the Japanese terms.

The Associated Press correspondent has reason to believe that nothing that has occurred at Portsmouth, N. H., will change the attitude of the Japanese government. While the Foreign Office maintains its usual reticence and the officials decline to talk for publication the demand for an adequate indemnity remains unalterable.

SOME TOKIO EDITORIALS.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

TOKIO, Aug. 25.—The Japanese newspaper Jiji declares that any compromise relating to the purchase of the island of Sakhalin has been abandoned. The cost of the war would leave Japan poorer, as both items are vitally important and a compromise is impossible.

The Jiji says: "Peace concluded in such form cannot satisfy us, and cannot be solid. Russia would be preferable to such a sacrifice. The recognition of the war means a hard struggle on our part, but we would rather suffer any hardship than consent to a reduction or alteration of our demands."

The Nichinichi favors a continuation of the war over imperfect peace, saying: "No sacrifice is too great to secure permanent peace in the Orient, for which we are fighting. There is no dissenting voice in the empire against carrying out our purpose, whatever sacrifice may be entailed."

ANGLO-JAPANESE TREATY.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

LONDON, Aug. 25.—The Associated Press has good reason for stating that a new Anglo-Japanese treaty of alliance may have been signed. The Foreign Office declines to give official confirmation or denial, but the Associated Press understands that the treaty was signed some days ago. There is no reason why it should not be signed prior to the conclusions of the Portsmouth conference, as the action of that conference will not affect its terms.

The new treaty is broader in scope in some respects than the former treaty, but it recognizes the protectorate by Japan over Korea and on other points, which it was not necessary to include in the old treaty. In some respects the new treaty contains limitations as compared with the old treaty; for instance, the latter contained a clause to the effect that the two sovereigns should combine their powers against Great Britain. Japan would be obliged to assist her ally while the clause in the new treaty only requires the assistance of Japan so far as British colonies in the Far East and the Pacific are concerned.

The Associated Press understands that the terms of the new treaty were fully agreed upon before Parliament adjourned, but it was also agreed that official announcement of its signature and its full terms should be deferred until after the conclusion of the Portsmouth conference.

MUST KEEP SOLDIERS BUSY.

OFFICIAL TIDINGS TO BERLIN.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

BERLIN, Aug. 25.—[By Atlantic Cable.] There is no disposition, today, in responsible quarters to predict the result of the last efforts for peace, but no one appears to be sanguine regarding the outcome. The feeling on the Bourse was one of uncertainty, and a like feeling prevailed in the government offices here, which are better informed as to the attitude of Russia than concerning that of Japan.

The dominant feeling in the Russian court, as reported officially here, is that Russia is in a better position to go on with the war, since she has heard Japan's terms than she has before, because the dissemination of these terms in Russia is having the effect of bringing most educated persons to the conviction that the war must be fought out, as the conditions are insupportable and because the return to Russia of half a million soldiers, discontented with their treatment in the Far East and with the vain results of their endeavor, would add to the internal ferment.

KOREAN RULER'S BIRTHDAY. CELEBRATED WITH RECEPTION.

DISCHARGE OF PRINTERS.

Several Typothetae printing shops today discharged a number of union printers, and non-union printers will be offered work in the Chicago printing shops through advertisements in local Sunday papers. This is taken by union leaders to mean that they will be forced to strike in Typothetae shops next week.

PUNCHON A BAD 'UN.

PRESIDENT AND CZAR EXCHANGING MESSAGES.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

PORTSMOUTH (N. H.), Aug. 25.—The peace situation now awaits the result of the pourparlers known to be in progress between the President and Emperor Nicholas and believed to be also going on between the United States government and Tokyo. While privately makes no concealment of the fact that, for the present, he has gone as far as he can without his Emperor's consent. Should no final result be achieved or no final definite instructions be received today or tomorrow morning, pretext will be found tomorrow for the adjournment of the conference until Monday or Tuesday.

SETTLED IMPORTANT POINTS.

Whether the conference results in a treaty or not, it will have been productive of great good, leaving only the question of money between the belligerents, a question which could be solved at any time. It is for the reason that the issue has narrowed down simply to a question of money that the optimists persist in believing the conference will not fail. They argue that the proposition that the cost of continuing the war to both countries would soon more than cover the amount in dispute is so palpable that it cannot prove an eventual bar.

Better, they argue, for Japan, with the principles settled in her favor, to forego the money payment than to prolong the war indefinitely at cost of millions with no absolute certainty of recovering any money at the end.

A prominent personage connected with one of the missions said today: "Should the plenipotentiaries actually separate at Portsmouth, I shall not at all abandon hope. Until the plenipotentiaries have actually left the country, the Russians from New York and the Japanese from San Francisco, I will not believe this now senseless war shall go on."

Baron Rosen, who spent last night at Magnolia, returned to Portsmouth today. Witte was busy with his correspondence early in the day, and Takahira, who did not go to Manchester with Baron Komura, also kept closely in his apartments. It is presumed he remained behind to be accessible for communication with the President in case of necessity.

RUSSIANS SURPRISED.

The Russians continue to express their surprise at the support given the Japanese cause in America. They contend from the standpoint of international policies, that Japan's influence in the Pacific constitutes a great danger to America's commercial and trade development westward.

American opinion is a prominent Russian personage, "is making the same mistake Russia did in regard to Prussia. We helped to lift Prussia from the position of a vassal state to that of a great power, to transfer into the German Empire. Now she obliges us to keep about 1,000,000 troops to guard our frontier."

"In the same way, America has been and is now helping Japan, hardly yet appreciating what is to come. Japan's dream is to free Asia from European or American influences. To do so, she must hold the outlying islands strung down the Chinese Coast. The Philippines will be the first necessity of the Japanese Empire. Even as far south as Australia, her ambitions may extend."

KAISER WILLIE'S "SPEC." EXPLAINED BY A RUSSIAN.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 25.—Briand, the correspondent of the St. Petersburg Slovo, in his cable dispatch to his paper, today, dwelt on the reported role played by Emperor William. He wrote:

"There is a factor in the situation which has not appeared on the surface, but nevertheless has played a big role. It is Emperor William. The deep impression produced by the meeting of the two sovereigns at Bjorke is known, and it is also known that Emperor William returned home enchanted."

"We have read about the efforts which are being made by the German press to prove the solidarity of the Kaiser with Roosevelt's understanding. But the Kaiser is thinking only of Germany. For the good of Germany, it is necessary that Russia should be engaged in the Far East as long as possible, so as to be free to force France to join Germany and break with England. For this purpose, it is necessary to defeat Roosevelt's object in order that subsequently when Russia is exhausted, Emperor William may become the mediator between her and Japan, thus to isolate England by menacing France with a rupture of her alliance with Russia. All of which will conduce to the German hegemony of continental Europe."

"And to accomplish this, it is necessary to persuade Emperor Nicholas that he must not bow before the failures that have come; that all great nations have had to suffer such, and it is his duty to give the armies of L'nevitich a chance to turn the situation."

"All the forces working for peace should concentrate their efforts to demonstrate to Emperor Nicholas that the prolongation of the war cannot possibly change the ultimate conditions of peace, and that it is time to cease working for the interests of the King of Prussia."

GRAIN TRADE SUFFERS.

MILITARY HOLDING FACILITIES.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

ODERSSA, Aug. 25.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The export trade in grain from Black Sea ports is paralyzed by lack of railway facilities, the government having retained all the rolling stock for military contingencies. Under the return of the troops in the event of peace or the forwarding of reinforcements should the war continue.

Many thousands of carloads of grain have accumulated along the southern lines, and the exporters will sustain heavy losses, owing to their inability to fulfill engagements.

SANTA BARBARA'S twelve-year-old boy, St. Clair Morton, again takes the honors of a day's heat in the scholarship race. Yesterday he secured in his favor 5045 votes. This makes his total score 110,338, within 417 points of the leader of the contest, Mable Soule. Five more new subscriptions yesterday would have given the representative of Santa Barbara the leadership of the contest.

Arthur Carpenter, about the same age and size as St. Clair Morton, is still third on the score list. Yesterday he gathered 2975 points, and he is working like a Trojan to go to the lead. He enjoyed first honors for a number of days. Then he struck "hardship" in his scholarship farming and his crop of points came short. Now he has the lay of the land, so that he knows where to sow and when to reap. His harvest grows better every day.

Orestes O. Orfila, the pride of Tucson, Ariz., proved to be second in importance in yesterday's count. He scored 8229 credits, more than five new paid-in-advance yearly subscriptions Orfila is drawing upon every locality in Arizona, showing a wide and popular acquaintance. Coupons arrive for him from every county in California and from all the States of Northern Mexico. His family and friends have a wide range of activity. His stock is said to date back to the early history of California. In a certain way the pioneers and Castilians are voting traditionally in addition to his own.

Rex R. Gil adds 3860 votes to his score, already high, and makes himself still more secure as the fourth round of the scholarship ladder. He and Long Beach and San Pedro, and a lot of other big Coast towns are making fast friends and joining interests to make a high finish. On a good many sides it is predicted that he will finish in the very lead. But Santa Barbara is a proud and wealthy city, and is backing St. Clair Morton. As between the two boys the struggle may resolve itself into a tug of war between Santa Barbara and Long Beach against the other resort towns of the coast. Among Gil's subscriptions yesterday was one yearly, new, for a year, which counts him 3000 points.

As the previous year, while the coins secured aggregated $24,110, against $16,419 for the previous twelve months. There were captured 165 plates of various descriptions for the making of counterfeit notes, and 424 dies and molds for coining. A very large proportion of the counterfeit coins was captured in the hands of the makers before being placed in circulation. Arrangements have been made for the establishment of branches of the service at Honolulu, where indications have pointed to the development of coining enterprises.

This boost was given to Gile by Mrs. Florence G. Bixby of Long Beach, who believes in the policy of encouraging boys, and especially in supporting this one, when the considers particularly promising.

Helen Pitner, the parson's daughter, continues to lead the score. For two weeks her reports have all been worthy the name of the Queen of Troy. Yesterday 2810 votes were cast in her favor, and she is the evidence of her popularity is even greater. And she works! She says her father is to be put to the expense of a new house when this contest is over. Sympathetically, she says: "I pity the contestants who have to walk all day and every day."

Myrtle Graham has been canvassing in Los Angeles for a few days, assisted by her benefactor, Mrs. Dr. Cook of Boston. The two are a strong team in inducing scholarship points. They are working over territory which other contestants have skinned, and they are getting more cream than did the contestants who made the first hasty calls. Some contestants don't stay in a place long enough to make a complete and intelligible statement. Others stay too long. But, aided by the experience of the much-traveled Mrs. Cook, Myrtle Graham stays just long enough to get the desired points, and then she hurries for other support.

In this business, and it is a business, there is everything in knowing when and where to call, when to stay and when to leave. As a rule, the markers are the ones who see the most people every day.

Hazel Doyle, "the flower girl" of the beautiful Santa Monica, went 2492 points up the ladder yesterday. Her progress is creditable. She is doing well in inducing new subscriptions, which count twice as much as old ones in merit points.

Bruce Moore took off a few more ounces of avoirdupois yesterday to collect 2245 subscription merits. The boy is working himself thin in order to make a high finish. It is up as a conundrum among the associate contestants. "Which boy will be most translucent at the end of the contest, Bruce Moore or Earle Weiler?" Eva Engel of Garbavia made an advance of 1848 points yesterday. She has transformed from rooster to rooster, York broilers.

many friends promoting her canvas. But she is not sitting idly by others to help her. She has been brought up to help herself by a mother who believes that girls should be useful.

Yesterday Earle V. Weiler gathered 1504 points and composed a poem which will appear in tomorrow's paper. Few poets can do business and write lines on one and the same day. But versatility is the word that applies to Earle Weiler.

Idell King scored 1284 points yesterday. Every day she is making more certain of fulfillment her desire to attend the Long Beach Conservatory of Music.

There are two Kings in the scholarship race and each has willing subjects of her own.

Jessie Mae King of Riverside filled her hand bag with 1050 points yesterday. In her note book she entered the names of a lot more people who intend to help her. She is a credit to Riverside and the city of orange groves gives evidence of appreciation.

Many other scores very near 1000 points were made yesterday. But these that girls should be useful, than to receive individual credit in the score list.

There were twenty changes in the relative positions of contestants as a result of the count of points, as follows:

THIRLS DRIVEN OUT OF HOME.

Police Officer and Wife of Ex-Officer Arrested.

Grand Jury Indicts Both for Transgressions.

The Miserable Affair Will be Sifted by Courts.

Two daughters and a young son
were from the roof, a wife's name was a home wrecked, two police officers dismissed from the service, neighborhood scandalized, and dual investments by the grand jury, followed

FORMER POLICEMAN HELMAN.

arrest and to result in prosecutions
these are the wretched fruits of a Figueroa-street affair presently to be sifted in the courts.

Thursday afternoon, or Friday morning, the grand jury found true bills against Mrs. Clara Mersch, wife of ex-policeman Theodore Mersch, for adultery, and against former Police Officer Jack B. Helman for misconduct.

The woman was created by County Jailer White late Thursday afternoon at the home of Helman's mother, No. 2325 New Jersey street, Boyle Heights. Helman was then in custody by Deputy Sheriff Conart at the corner of First and Main streets. Mrs. Mersch is 39 years of age, Helman is 40.

Helman and Mrs. Mersch were taken to the County Jail and locked up, between 4 and 5 o'clock last evening.
Their bail was fixed at $3000 each, and up to a late hour last night they had not succeeded in finding bondsmen.

The action of the law into the unhappy affair was brought about by the woman's step-daughters, Clara L. and A. Mersch, the former of whom employed as a copyist in the County order's office and the latter of whom is given in the City Directory
as a dressmaker. They are aged, respectively, 19 and 18 years.

The wronged husband and father
resented these young women—unusually attractive girls—are the sufferers by the family wreck,
and they now seek to have the courts decide. There is another child concerned, their brother, aged 14 years,
who for some time past has been making his home with his father, away from the parental roof at No. 236 south Figueroa street. That roof ceased to be a shelter for the girls Thursday evening, when they gathered together
and few things they were permitted to call their own, and moved—unable,
as said, to longer endure the state of affairs existing there because of the relations between their stepfather and Helman.

ACCUSED OF SPITE.
It is stated that for several years,
and their recent coming of age, May and Clara Mersch were joint bread-winners with their father, and that the girls of their wages went toward the keeping of the Figueroa-street home
furniture; that they now have no claim in those chattels because during the minority whatever money they earned belonged to their parents.

Mersch and his wife had accumulated about $12,000 worth of property in Los Angeles, the chief item being the home on Figueroa street. It is now alleged by Helman and Mrs. Mersch that failure on the part of Clara and May to obtain a share of this property filled
the girls with "spite," and that there-lies the motive for the prosecution.
Theodore Mersch was a park policeman. Jack Helman was a patrolman on the city police force. They became acquainted through the similarity of their occupations, and in this way Helman was enabled to worm himself into his brother officer's family. The statements of fact and allegations upon which Helman and Mrs. Mersch will be prosecuted are in substance as follows:

Either by a fatality of circumstances
or an exercise of cunning, Helman found himself in possession of a beat that took in the neighborhood of Mersch's home. It was not long before his attentions to the park policeman's wife made scandal talk that penetrated to police headquarters, and Sergeant Craig was detailed to make an investigation. The outcome was that Helman was suspended from the force, ostensibly for drinking. He made no effort to regain his standing and was dropped from the rolls.

GIVES HER DIVORCE.
Instead of suing his wife for divorce Mersch allowed her to sue him for legal separation, on the ground of cruelty. December 2, 1904, her interlocutory decree was entered, to become operative as a full divorce December 2, 1905. A division of the $12,000 worth of community property was effected by the payment of $3000 cash by the wife to the husband and the deed of all the property to her by him. To raise this sum Mrs. Mersch placed a mortgage on the south Figueroa-street home.
It is charged that the chance of ultimately getting possession of her property is what prompted Helman to invade the home of Mersch.

Mersch then took his young son and quit the home. The girls remained, despite the conduct of their stepmother with Helman, for the sake of safeguarding whatever property rights they might have in the house into which the most of their earnings had gone. Soon after the recording of the interlocutory decree Helman practically moved into the Figueroa-street home,
and openly assumed the relations of husband to Mrs. Mersch. The bitter remonstrances Helman practically avoided nothing except to precipitate stormy scenes.

On several occasions, it will be charged in the prosecution Helman and Mrs. Mersch made holiday trips to the near-by beaches, notably to Long Beach, where they registered at the Windermere and the Barnum cottage as Mr. and Mrs. Helman. This was within the last month or so.

MARRIED IN MEXICO.
Three weeks ago the two departed for Mexico, where they spent four or five days. Upon their return they announced to their friends that they had been married (presumably at Tia Juana) and at once as man and wife entered upon the occupancy of the woman's home.

The Mersch girls, having no other go, finally an agreement was reached by which their stepmother paid them the trifling sum of $15 to release to her whatever equity they might have in the furniture of the house, and Thursday night, taking with them the few belongings accumulated since their coming of age and hence theirs beyond dispute, they quit the dwelling that had been home to them for years. This suiting Helman, who had ordered them
out, bag and baggage, again and again.
Helman is said to have bragged,
since the return of himself and Mrs.
Mersch from Mexico, that the laws of California could not touch either of them—that the marriage laws of Mexico
had to be respected here.

POSSIBLE PUNISHMENT.
As a matter of fact the couple could not have been legally wedded across the border, or anywhere, because Mrs.
Mersch's decree of divorce will not become operative until next December.
This being the case, it is possible that a charge of bigamy also will be entered
against the woman.

In California adultery by a single man cannot be a felony, but is made a charge of bigamy also will be entered
against the woman.

Helman and Mrs. Mersch denounce their arrest as "a blackmail scheme from beginning to end." They assail the woman's stepdaughters on the score of spite in not having obtained share of the Mersch property. They say:

STATEMENTS OF ACCUSED.
"A few weeks ago Mrs. Mersch went away on a trip, leaving the home in possession of her mother and Clara and May Mersch. The girls refused to be directed by Mrs. Helman, and offended her feelings of propriety by having a lot of cheap actors visit them in the evenings. The girls have been doing vaudeville stunts at local playhouses at night. In indignation Mrs.
Helman packed her grips and retired to her own home on Boyle Heights.
"Upon the return to the city of Mrs.
Mersch there was an angry scene between her and her stepdaughters, and the latter offered to pass out of the home and life of Mrs. Mersch if she would pay over to them $1000, and Mrs.
Mersch was warned that both she and Helman would be prosecuted unless a settlement was made."
Helman and Mersch have engaged Attorney Clifton Axell to defend them. May and Clara Mersch have sought the legal advice of Garrett and Haas.

Prisoner Believed to be Guilty of Many Burglaries.

In the person of Henry Edmonds, the police think they have captured one of the smoothest daylight burglars and sneak thieves the Police Station has harbored in many months.

Edmonds was arrested by Detective Twissamantes and Ritch and after a short investigation Detective Steele and Craig brought to light dozens of valuable articles, the theft of which was traced directly to the accused.
What troubles the detective now is to find owners for many valuable pieces of jewelry, revolvers and other things they have recovered. Edmonds stole these things which were found by the police can't locate the rightful owners.
The specific charge against Edmonds is burglary. He is accused of having robbed the room of Misses Cullity and J. Ennis of No. 453 South Hope street on the night of August 19. Two gold watches, a ring, chain bracelet and other things belonging to the women were recovered.

Included in the lot of unidentified jewelry which was found by the detectives are a gold locket, cuff buttons, pins set with diamonds, revolvers and opera glasses.

NERVOUS PARAMOUR.
SAVES WOMAN, OF COURSE.

FOR THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—A NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—As strange a story as that constituting the plot of any novel will be told to Gov. Higgins of New York by a lawyer when he endeavors to secure the pardon of a man who chose to serve a sentence of three years' imprisonment in Sing Sing prison for the crime of which he was innocent to shield the name of a woman
from scandal.

Carl Fisher-Hansen, the lawyer, said
today that he would at once appeal for the pardon of the prisoner, whose name he would not reveal, at the request of the woman, whose reputation
the prisoner had saved at the expense of his own liberty. The woman, Mr.
Fisher-Hansen says, had visited his office within a few days and said that her husband had just died and that she now wanted to do justice to the prisoner. They had been friends and,
more than a year ago, when her husband returned unexpectedly, he caught her running away. To save her from scandal, the man confessed that he had broken into her home to steal, whereupon he was arrested and is now
in Sing Sing.

The prisoner was a young college student, who disappeared from one of the colleges when he was arrested.
"I will not say whether it was Harvard, Yale or Princeton," said the lawyer. "No one has ever known what became of him, as he was tried and sentenced under an assumed name. The woman in the case has also paid a penalty for her indiscretion, as in service of her husband, as in service of $85,000 in blackmail from her within a few years. She is a member of one of the best families of New York and her late husband owned several factories in New Jersey."

WILL FIGHT FOR FREEDOM.

Frances Hale Will Strongly Contest Extradition.

Los Angeles Officer Starts
North to Get Her.

Habeas Corpus Proceedings
to be Instituted.

Whether Frances Hale returns to Los Angeles to face the indictment which was returned by the grand jury Tuesday, charging her with obtaining money by false pretenses, or whether she will continue her journey northward until the international boundary raises an effective barrier to further pursuit, depends entirely upon the result of a race for time which began when she was arrested in Portland late Thursday night. She may win the race but if she does she must overcome a court and hangar and even then she could be rearrested before she could get across the State of Washington.

Miss Hale is fighting hard to secure her release from custody by means of habeas corpus proceedings and while she is thus engaged, Deputy Sheriff George Conart is speeding northward
as fast as steam can take him, bent on blocking the little game the woman will try to play and hoping to be able to bring her back his prisoner.

The time necessary to make the journey from Los Angeles to Portland is something about forty-eight hours but Conart will have to stop twice; once at Sacramento to have his papers vised and a requisition issued and again at Salem, Or., to have the requisition honored by the Governor of that State.
Then he must hurry to Portland and all of this must be done before the clever, attractive woman has an opportunity to play any tricks on the Portland
court and thereby secure her release.

When the news of her arrest was seen in The Times yesterday by Sheriff White and other officials who are interested in capturing the fugitive, they left nothing undone to have her held in custody in Portland until the arrival of a Los Angeles officer. The wires were kept hot and finally, as a measure of precaution, a copy of the indictment and bench warrant was wired to the Portland authorities. The officials of the Exposition City were asked to hold their prisoner at all hazards and if she be released on habeas corpus the Pinkerton men who have followed her to Portland will again take up her trail.
Deputy Sheriff Conart will reach Sacramento this forenoon. He must wait there until the next day to catch the Shasta express and therefore can not reach Portland before Tuesday morning.

In the efforts to bring the woman back to Los Angeles the prosecution will be conducted at the instance of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association and the managers of the Door
of Hope who were so easily bunched, will be used only as witnesses. If Miss Hale had paid them the $100 she promised she would have been safe enough;
but the basis of the case is said to lie in the fact that she skipped without paying them anything. Her contract with them called for the $100 cash and one half of the gate receipts at the "benefit" which she gave at Blanchard
Hall on the 17th inst. There were no gate receipts for the reason that more than the capacity of the house had been sold in advance and none of those who attended the "benefit" found it necessary to purchase tickets.

ATTORNEY HER SILENT.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
PORTLAND (Or.) Aug. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Chief of Police Gritzmacher has received word from Los Angeles that a special officer will leave at once for Portland with requisition papers for Miss Frances Hale, who was arrested last night as she landed from the steamer Roanoke. In the meantime Miss Hale had employed Attorney
Jacks to defend her and his assistants had put him there after giving him a terrible beating. Blood
flowed freely from the man's numerous wounds, but he was able to tell
his story.

He said he came from Cananea two
or three days ago and secured lodgings
at No. 742 Buena Vista street. Knowing little of the customs of this city,

EFFUSIVE GREETING GIVEN A

So Strenuous Was Their Salutation
That the Stranger Is Found Almost

Six or Eight Men Fell Upon, Beat

Dan Glogovac, a Mexican whose name doesn't smack right, told the police a peculiar story of robbery, hoodlumism
and attempted murder when he appeared at the Police Station last night,
accompanied by Patrolman Arguello.

Arguello found Glogovac almost unconscious at Alpine and Buena Vista streets about 8 p.m. Glogovac said his assailants had put him there after giving him a terrible beating. Blood
flowed freely from the man's numerous wounds, but he was able to tell
his story.

He said he came from Cananea two
or three days ago and secured lodgings
at No. 742 Buena Vista street. Knowing little of the customs of this city,

he strolled into a saloon at Alpine and Buena Vista streets last night and immediately after he had purchased a drink, he was set upon by seven or eight Mexicans and brutally beaten.
His assailants robbed him of $14, he says, and then threw him in the street.

ARCANUMITES ANGRY.
Kicking Members of Fraternal Order Will See to the Reduction of Insurance Rates.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.)
NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—Sixty-three councils of the Royal Arcanum in this city probably will appoint a delegation to the special convention of the Supreme Council to be held August 30 at Put-In Bay, O., to see that the fifteen supreme representatives of New York stand by their pledges to vote for the rescinding of the new rate laws established by the councils last May.

A call was issued yesterday with this object in view. It asks the local councils to meet in special session when it is proposed to discuss the matter and if found feasible the delegation will be appointed.

NEW FRATERNAL ORDER.
(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.)
HAGERSTOWN (Md.) Aug. 25.—
There has been inaugurated here a movement intended to be national in character, looking to the reformation of an organization to be known as the National Fraternal Alliance, those at the head of the movement being members of the Royal Arcanum who are dissatisfied with the conduct of affairs
of that order.

One of the projectors said that an object of the new alliance will be to apply, as members of the Royal Arcanum, for a receiver for that organization, with a view to the proper distribution of the order's large emergency funds to the beneficiaries of members whose deaths occur while litigation is in progress or so long thereafter as any portion of the funds remain.

SEALERS ARE POACHING.
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25.—The steamer W. H. Kruger, which arrived here today with the season's catch of seal skins from the Pribiloff Islands,
brings word of a descent on the rockeries on St. Paul's Island, one of the group, by Alexander McLean, captain of the schooner Carmencita, and his crew, on August 6, just as the Kruger was leaving.

The natives who brought in the story
said that the men came ashore in boats from the Carmencita and killed as many of the seals as they had room for. They warned the natives who saw the raid not to interfere with or bribe them.

THE CITY IN BRIEF.

NEWS AND BUSINESS.

Got Gold and Silver.

Mrs. H. G. Mayo of No. 326 East Twenty-first street was the victim of a daylight burglar yesterday afternoon. During her temporary absence thieves entered her house and stole a gold watch and chain, dozens of silver spoons and a quantity of jewelry.

Raided Fan-Tan Joint.

Patrolmen Willett and McGraw raided a fan-tan joint in Chinatown last night and captured Ah Yee, the proprietor, and five other Chinamen who were taken to the Police Station and required to put up bail to the amount of $50 each for their appearance in Police Court today. Ah Yee furnished the requisite $200 in gold. The cops surprised the joint while the look-out had fallen asleep at the door. Back from Alaska.

O. J. Barker, of the firm of Barker Brothers, has just returned with Mrs. Barker and Miss Barker, from a trip that extended to Skagway, Alaska, and up the White Pass Trail, returning by way of Sitka and Vancouver. Prior to taking the trip to the North Mr. Barker went east to Chicago and Grand Rapids and purchased a great stock of furniture. It is claimed that he is the second largest buyer of furniture in the world, the largest being the Wanamaker stores in Philadelphia.

Bishop's Appointments Tomorrow.

Bishop Conaty will leave tomorrow evening for his journey to Rome. Even his last day here before his departure shows no surcease from the heavy picture which have devolved upon him of late. He is scheduled to preach at St. Vibiana's Cathedral at 11 o'clock, and at 10 o'clock he will pay his first official visit to the new parish of St. Augustine, located in the northwest part of the city. He will preach in the temporary chapel at the corner of Temple street and Edgewood road. Aaron's Red Bastion.

The Chamber of Commerce has a little orange-wood cabinet on exhibition that outdoes Aaron's rod. It is the property of Mrs. Jennie Harris of Bawtelle, and is made of orange wood bent and fastened in their present shape more than two months ago. The whole surface of supports and top has been varnished and gilded, and now, to the surprise of its owners and everyone else, four little sprouts have appeared in a bright mockery of fresh green foliage. The theory is that the sap was imprisoned by the paint, and found an outlet in these sudden growths.

GREAT BOON TO DESERT MINING.

REDUCED RATES ON SHIPMENTS OF ORE ANNOUNCED.

Salt Lake and Santa Fe Railroads Readjust Their Freight Tariffs So as to Encourage the Desert Camps. Huntington Inspects the Southern Division of Pacific Electric.

Both the Santa Fe and the Salt Lake are making a redoubled effort to secure the bulk of the ore shipments to the smelters from the Goldfield and Bullfrog districts. Beginning September 1, the Salt Lake will place in effect a reduced rate on ore shipped from Las Vegas to the Utah Valley smelters. Shortly thereafter, as soon as the change can be authorized from general headquarters, the Santa Fe will put on practically the same rate on ore shipped from Ivanpah to the smelters at San Francisco.

Both roads explain that the change is made for the benefit of the shippers, taking into consideration the disabilities under which they are laboring from long and expensive teaming from the gold fields to the railway connections and that there is no thought of cutting rates one against the other, as each road is operating in practically non-competing territory. The reduction in rates will be approximately 25 cents per ton for 25 ore, ranging in a sliding scale to $2.35 for 300 ore.

The new rate which the Salt Lake will inaugurate the first of next month will be $4.50 per ton from Las Vegas to the Salt Lake smelters for 25 ore, ranging upward to $10 per ton on 300 ore.

It is believed that this reduction will greatly encourage shipping, especially of the lower grade ores, as the action of the railroads to compensate in their rates for the heavy cost of transportation from the mines, will be of considerable benefit and encouragement to the shippers.

HUNTINGTON INSPECTS SYSTEM. H. E. Huntington spent nearly all day yesterday in his private car getting acquainted with the southern division of the Pacific Electric Railway. It was his first trip over the line since his return from New York, and his first visit by trolley to Newport Beach over the line recently opened to the public.

Accompanying Mr. Huntington were General Manager Schindler and Chief Engineer Pillsbury. The run was made over the whole southern system, the party arriving at Newport in time for lunch at the hotel.

Mr. Huntington was especially interested in the progress of the work on the Santa Ana line, and the terminal work at San Pedro. He expressed himself as being highly pleased and thoroughly satisfied with the manner in which the work is being prosecuted, and with the numerous improvements which have been made since his departure.

The party returned to the city at 5:30 o'clock.

NOTES AND PERSONALS. E. H. Snedaker, general agent of the Illinois Central at San Francisco, is visiting the local railroad offices.

W. C. Shoemaker of Salt Lake, traveling passenger agent of the Colorado Southern, is numbered among the visiting railroad men.

T. H. Geibel, traffic manager of the Los Angeles Pacific, with his family, is spending his vacation in the woods and among the trout streams of Oregon.

F. J. Heid, chief clerk of the passenger department of the Santa Fe, is spending his vacation at San Francisco.

J. Kruttschnitt, director of maintenance and operation of the Harriman lines, left yesterday in his special train for San Francisco, on a sudden determination to return to his headquarters at Chicago by the northern rather than by the southern route, as originally planned. He was accompanied as far as San Francisco by General Superintendent Ingram.

Capt. G. J. Grammer of the New York Central, and C. F. Daly, passenger traffic manager of the lines west of Buffalo, accompanied by B. Jerome, general agent at Chicago, are expected in Los Angeles while on a trip to the Coast, which they are planning to make in a few weeks.

The Pacific Coast Association of Traffic Agents will make a trip to the Grand Canyon over the Santa Fe, leaving here October 7, and giving 7 days to the round trip, for which special preparations are being made.

A special train of members of the National Letter Carriers' Association is expected here early next month, arriving in Los Angeles over the Salt Lake and proceeding to Portland over the Southern Pacific.

PERSONAL. Dr. W. J. Davis of Detroit, one of the firm of the large drug house of Park Davis & Co., is registered at the Hollenbeck.

John Frank of Chicago is a guest at the Westminster. He says his name may be queer, but he is glad it isn't Smith, for instance.

Robert Dollar, president of the Dollar Steamship Company, left last night for San Francisco, after spending a few days here on business.

Percival H. Bankin of London, Eng., where he is interested in the street-railway system, is registered at the Westminster and is spending a few days at California.

L. J. Overlock of Blaine, Ariz., interested in a lumber business, is spending a few days here on his return from cruising through the lumber camps of Oregon and the Northwest.

A consignment of Starr Pianos arrived at our store two weeks ago. In transit the cases of several of them were slightly damaged—just a little scratched here and there—not enough to injure the instrument at all but at the same time enough to forbid us selling them as being absolutely perfect. We have now received these pianos from the repair shop—just as good as new. And in order to close them out are offering, for immediate sale, $425 styles at $350 and $500 styles at $375. This is one of the best piano quotations ever made in Los Angeles. The purchaser who wants the best work of piano construction at a bargain will not be disappointed by purchasing one of these instruments. Musical conservatories, colleges and educational institutions everywhere endorse the Starr; it is "The College Favorite."

AUTOMOBILE IS PINCHED BETWEEN TROLLEY CARS.

The startling predicament of the Ellis party of automobilists.

JAMMED between two trolley cars last evening at Fifth and Hill streets, the occupants of a big 28-horsepower touring automobile had a narrow escape from serious injury, being thrown to the ground and brained, while the machine was damaged to such an extent that it was necessary to send it to a repair shop. The occupants of the auto were George B. Ellis, a stock broker of No. 2128 Western avenue, his wife and two women companions. Ellis, who has had the machine but a short time and is none too experienced at the wheel, was guiding it down Hill street and started too soon to cross Fifth after the passage of a Washington-street car. Right behind his auto was south-bound Santa Monica car that crept unobtrusively close to the big automobile, the driver of which, apparently becoming confused, increased the speed and crashed lightly into the Washington-street car, the impact overturning the auto and throwing out its occupants, who fortunately landed in such a manner as to escape injury in the jumble of auto and street cars.

Ellis and the ladies who accompanied him suffered nothing but minor bruises, although their clothing was sadly mussed up in the dust of the street.

Agency of A. F. Webster & Company, the "Casa Del Mar" hotel property on Pier avenue, Ocean Park, for $20,000. The property has a 50-foot frontage on Pier avenue, and the purchaser will make extensive additions. This hotel was erected four years ago on the sands, when there were few improvements at Ocean Park, and many thought Mr. Ross had made an unwise expenditure. However, for three years it has brought a rental of $150 per month. Mr. Ross paid $50 per front foot for the lot and the improvement cost him $12,500.

UP MT. HOLLYWOOD. Scenic Railroad With Incline to Summit to be Built to Highest Point in Griffith Park.

Los Angeles will have another novel attraction to lay before the tourists the coming season. The Mt. Hollywood electric and incline railway is to be built from Western avenue to Griffith Park to the foot of Mount Hollywood, and the franchise held by Col. Eddy, proprietor of the Angels' Flight, for a right-of-way up to the top of Mount Hollywood, have been taken over by the new company.

Two-thirds of the roadbed for the electric line has been graded. The incline section will be 180 feet in length.

CRASHED INTO HOSE WAGON. Fire Apparatus Responding to Alarm Wrecked by Street Car—Firemen Narrowly Escaped Death.

The combination hose wagon and chemical engine, No. 15, Fire Department, was struck broadside by a rapidly moving car on West Twenty-fourth street, while responding to an alarm, and so completely wrecked that it will have to be entirely rebuilt. Four firemen, who were on the wagon, escaped death as by miracle, for two of them were thrown twenty feet or more, one landing on the lawn in a yard.

The alarm was sent in from Twenty-second and Thirtieth streets, and is said to have been caused by a woman who mistook a fire alarm box for a mail box. No. 15 engine company made the run up Eldorado place and approaching Twenty-fourth street, Capt. Todd sounded the long continuous wailing siren.

The Interurban company was approaching at such tremendous speed that the motor car could not stop and the incline section of the hose wagon was crushed into the horse wagon and grasping the reins, prevented a serious runaway. Lieut. Barrington and Hoseman Ferris escaped injury by dropping off the rear step when they saw that a wreck was inevitable. The heavy hose wagon with four feet of hose was knocked clear to the curb.

The State Department at Washington received a cablegram yesterday from Yokohama saying that the ship Adhrala, owned by Spreckels, has been seized. The dispatch gives no details of why the ship was seized or anything concerning the business in which it was engaged.

Builders Don't Like Book "Ad." Scheme.

Say Solicitors Wield Club to Get Business.

Outside Promoters Pocketing Principal Profits.

Building contractors are raising a howl over methods used by solicitors for advertising to be placed in various "architects' books" that are being issued. Some contractors declare they virtually are forced to purchase something they do not want, in the face of representations by solicitors that favors will be extended to those who advertise, and withheld from those who do not.

Secretary Kline of the Builders' Exchange, who is in close touch with the contractors, likens the scheme to the graft worked in the name of the Door of Hope and other charitable institutions, wherein the supposed beneficiary, in this case the architect, lends his name and gets some small benefit, while the outsider promoting the scheme gets the greater part of the profits.

Five or six of the "architects' books" have been published, some of them being under the names of leading members of the craft. Several additional publications of a similar nature are in process, and the contractors are aghast at the prospect of being asked to advertise in each one of the books.

The contractors express the opinion that the reputable architects who have lent their names to the books are perfectly sincere in their actions and in few, if any, cases are they responsible for the methods used by solicitors to get business.

"The architects only knew how these schemes were represented to the contractors," said Secretary Kline yesterday, "they would hesitate a long time before they would lend their names to the project."

"The solicitors, to get business, take liberties with the names of the architects and in a number of cases have attempted to club contractors into buying advertising space. In numerous instances, letters are issued bearing the signature of the architect and addressed to contractors and material men, who are assured that the plan is one of merit and support is asked."

"The plan pursued seems to have been for the architects to sign a large number of letters and to leave to the publishers of their books to fill in the names of men whom they wish to approach. This gives the solicitor a standing that he would not have in any other way and in many cases he has been quick to seize his opportunity to get business by any means."

"Here," the solicitor will say, "so-and-so is getting out a book and he wants your ad. He's going to have a lot of work in your line and if you take the space he will give you a quick show on the contract."

"Now this is a whip that has been snatched out of the hands of a reputable architect. No one believes a reputable architect would adopt such a method for the gain he would receive from the books. It is a pretty well known fact that it is the solicitor who is taking advantage of an excellent opportunity to get business."

"The architects do not know what is being done; otherwise the practice would be stopped."

"Neither he wants to advertise in this way or not, the contractor is placed in an awkward position. In view of his dealings with the architect he is unable to maintain friendly relations and of course feels that he can better afford to pay $100 for an ad. than to run the chances of causing offense and losing a good contract."

"It was all right when the first two or three books were produced; that is, if the contractors didn't feel the pressure so much; but the number of schemes is multiplying constantly and the matter has become an absolute nuisance. Contractors made here every day are growing active of these solicitors and the contractors want to know what they are going to do to be saved. It is a very serious matter and should be aired fully before it is permitted to go any further."

"It is declared that the architects get nothing out of the publication, a fact that should be known by persons approached by the solicitors. The architect may get his business, but the prominence he will get through the connection of his name with the publication, but the rich returns go into the pockets of the promoters of the scheme."

"When it is realized that as much as $700 or $800 has been paid for advertising space in a publication of this kind, it would appear that there is a big profit for someone."

"In some instances, the solicitors have represented that the architect would receive one-half the amount paid for ads. This may be so, but I am informed that the architect gets nothing."

Architect A. L. Haley, under whose name one of the publications has been issued, said he was thoroughly satisfied with the plan so far as he had tested it.

"I was asked by numerous contractors if it made any difference to me whether or not they advertised," said Mr. Haley, "and I invariably informed them that it did not. If any solicitor ever represented that the placing of an advertisement would affect the standing of an architect with his clients, he should not give in to him."

"If there were any profits in the publication of the book, bearing my name, they would be shared by me, and I am sure to anything he may have made out of it. I have been informed that the cost of production was very great and that a small margin was left between the cost and the receipts."

The rates charged for space in some of the books is $100 per page and small ads are charged at $50 per line. A copy of the book for every dollar paid for advertising.

The secretary of the Builders' Exchange says many of the books fail to circulate to any great extent, and that he has had to refuse numerous requests for the numbers of them in the rooms of the exchange.

The dining car San Pedro jumped the track at Delta yesterday morning. The accident delayed the south-bound Oregon express train two hours. The same car ran off the track at the same place on August 10, and M. D. Wilton, the porter, was slightly injured.

TO REORGANIZE EXCHANGE.

Efforts Being Made to Revive the Defunct Institution on a Legitimate Basis.

Another effort will be made to start a mining stock exchange, a real exchange this time, it is explained, not a stock laundry. This plan was carefully explained by the promoters of the movement. There is room, they say, for a legitimate exchange, but there is absolutely none for a wash-house of the type of the two that operated here for a time, fooling the public by bogus sales of worthless stocks at inflated values.

The movement now under way is to reorganize the defunct Los Angeles Western Miners' Exchange, that operated for a few months on the ground floor of the Helman building. If a quorum of the late directors of the defunct corporation can be brought together today they will hold a meeting, arrange to rent another place and start afresh. It is said, however, that it is the intention of the reorganizers to get a new board of directors as the first requisite, although one or two of the former members may be retained.

U. S. G. Todd, one of the directors of the late exchange, who is declared to have lent it much of the little standing it ever had during its brief life, is taking an active part in the movement.

"If we are successful in reorganizing you may depend on it that nothing but genuine sales will be offered," said Mr. Todd yesterday. "If only a thousand shares are sold on any day, the board and reports will show that and no more. There is plenty of room here for a practical business-like exchange. Thousands and thousands of shares are being sold here all the time."

One thing that will kill the late exchange, and which would have killed almost any institution, was the expense. A rental of $150 a month, a secretary at $25 a month, and $25, with a few other incidentals, more or less, would have been a heavy burden on the exchange, and which would have killed almost any institution, was the expense.

According to the plan now outlined, the first move will be in the direction of getting cheaper quarters. These may be found on Second street, near the Union League Club. With this the fancy-priced memberships, so widely advertised on the old exchange, may be heard of no more.

DIES FAR FROM BELOVED ITALY.

SAD STORY OF HUMBLE MAN'S BLASTED HOPES.

Slaves and Denies Himself for Years in Order to Rejoin His Family Under Other Sunny Skies, but Dread Summons Comes Before Fortune Smiles on Him.

A humble heart tragedy came to a pitiful end here this week—one of those tragedies of separation with which Los Angeles is so familiar. The story comes to light through a quick-sympathized woman who lives in the western part of town. One day about two years ago an errand took this lady to Byram street—a narrow, quiet place of no particular significance—and directly past a tiny shoemaker shop, about six feet wide and built flush with the sidewalk, which attracted her attention by its unpretentious, almost apologetic appearance. Errands continued to take her in the neighborhood and she felt into the habit of carrying the family shoe repairing to the little shop.

The shoemaker was a lonely, middle-aged Italian with melancholy, dark eyes and a tall, gaunt form always bent over his work when he was not sleeping or preparing his fringe material in the little curtained-off cubbyhole at the back. He spoke only a few English words, but as the lady is always sincerely interested in people with whom she has dealings of any sort, her kind questions and his shy, meager answers enabled her to piece out his simple story.

He said he had come from Italy six years before that his wife and children were still there and that he would return to them to end his days when he should have gathered the necessary money together.

"Do you think you will be able to get the money before long?" the lady asked.

"Oh," he replied unenthusiastically, "I gotta lot. I sell me I can go."

Some weeks later when Thanksgiving Day was only a few hours distant, another shoe needed a stitch or a peg, so the old man's new friend sought the little shop with a small contribution toward the solitary Thanksgiving dinner. The sad eyes looked a surprised thanks as the grained hands took the proffered gift, but the settled apathy of the old man's manner did not change.

"How about the lot? Isn't it sold yet?" inquired the editor, and the close-cropped gray head shook in a silent negation.

Then for many months nothing occurred to bring about a visit to the little shop, though the picture of a patient man bending uncomplainingly over a half-worn shoe while treasuring a dream of Italian Thanksgiving dinner. The sad eyes looked a surprised thanks as the grained hands took the proffered gift, but the settled apathy of the old man's manner did not change.

On last Wednesday a twisted heel sadly in need of straightening necessitated a pilgrimage to Byram street. The street itself, lined with vine-hung cottage homes, looked the same as ever; the familiar hood stretching under the modest place of business as before—but there was something wrong. The narrow door always opened for light and air was shut tight and no sound of tapping hammer came from within. Stepping closer, the tardy visitor saw a paper plastered to the door and something told her even before she read the rude lettering that a more important guest had been there before her. And surely enough, the primitive inscription stated briefly:

"B. Cilli he die 25 August 10 minutes to 5, frens lake go to funra go to 5 San Spring to more 24."

With a pang of shocked surprise the lady turned and went away, sorrowing for a fleeting wife beyond the ocean and for the lonely, tired old man fated to take his last long rest in the land of the stranger, where the skies, how- ever of that and blue, are still not those of Italy.

HIGHER TAX, NO MURMUR.

ONE MINING COMPANY TO PAY WITHOUT PROTEST.

Offer of Supervisor to Buy Listed Cattle Stops Quibble Over the Assessment—Phoenix, to Send Her Fire Chief East to Study Modern Methods of Quenching Flames.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES)

PHOENIX (Ariz.), Aug. 25.—The largest amount of noise concerning the proposed mining property in the Territory is coming from Cochise county, where the Territorial Board of Equalization raised the county board just fifteen times its valuation on mining ground. In that county are 624 patented claims, which had been valued by the county board at $223,018. The Territorial Board lifted these figures to $3,345,270, and great is the roar. It is not contended that the mines are not worth even 100 times three million dollars, but the cry is that the small mine owner loses as well as the great corporation.

Frank M. Murphy of the Tombstone Consolidated Mines Company, one of the properties that is hit most heavily, stated in Phoenix yesterday that his interests will pay the increased tax without a murmur, though their mines are mainly on a development basis. He thought the method of the Territorial Board rough and somewhat crude, yet its assessment could not be more inequitable than the old one, made up by various assessors acting for themselves, without reference to the assessments upon similar mines in other counties. Said Mr. Murphy: "Every well-informed citizen of the Territory knew that the great producers were not bearing their share of taxation."

The Cochise County Board of Equalization did some advancing itself last Saturday. The Chiricahua Cattle Company was valued 2000 head of cattle. When the company's representative demurred, Supervisor Riggs closed debate by making an offer to take over the brand at market rates for the amount assessed. He didn't get the cattle. In Yavapai county the total levy made for county and Territorial purposes was fixed Saturday at 4 cents, with school tax additions that makes the rate in Prescott .044. The board is raising the assessments of nearly all the larger cattle owners. It is understood that District Attorney E. E. Inwood will advise the board to disregard the order of the Territorial Board of Equalization to raise taxes on mining property 100 per cent. Sam Patton, Assistant District Attorney, opposes his chief upon the issue. Mr. E. Inwood is chairman of the Territorial Democratic Central Committee and also is an attorney for the United Verde mines, which would be most affected by the order.

In this county, Maricopa, the county board has made a general tax levy of 2 1/2 cents, with school tax additions that will make a total of .028 cents. The board was affected little by the mining order, as few mines are located within the county. The general effect of the new order will be the lowering of the exorbitant tax rate in the mining counties, as the assessments go up. The city of Phoenix has a fine fire-fighting equipment with two steamers, two hook and ladder trucks, a hose wagon and several hose carts and would appear to back little leave an adequate water supply. But the city fathers do not believe their firemen sufficiently well acquainted with modern fire department methods. So the City Council now proposes to lengthen the term of the fire chief and to send him, at the city's expense, to some eastern city where he can imbibe the latest ideas to be locally applied on his return.

COLOR SCHEME—NO MIX.

L. S. Panier of San Diego has written to the Probate Judge in Phoenix, stating that he understands that the laws of Arizona permit the marriage of Caucasians and negroes. This being assumed, the writer (whether man or woman the letter does not show) refers to the trouble that would be necessitated by a journey of the happy couple to Phoenix and back, and asks that the Arizona license be sent him (or her) for use in San Diego. The reply of the clerk of the court must have been very disappointing to the optimistic San Diegoan. The marriage laws of Arizona concerning miscegenation have been taken from the statutes of Texas and are much more drastic than those of California.

TERRITORIAL BRIEFS.

Daniel T. Rumberg, one of the pioneers of Central Arizona, has sued Amanda Rumberg for divorce, on the ground of abandonment. The couple were married in 1896. If the case is decided by the court, the divorce will be a landmark case in the history of the Territory. The quality is far better than usual, however.

It is announced that Territorial Auditor Wesley A. Hill will retire from office about January 1, and will be succeeded by John H. Page of Coconino county. Mr. Hill's appointment has been recognized as a temporary one.

PLANS CHINESE PAPER.

Japanese Editor to Enter Local Field With Journal for Mongolians—Interracialities of Task.

There is soon to be started in this city a Chinese newspaper which is to be owned by a Japanese. The owner has not decided yet whether the paper is to be published semi-weekly or daily, that question to be decided by the demand.

The owner of the paper is M. Yamaguchi, who at present conducts a Japanese daily, the Rafu-Shimpo, at 128 North Main street. The success of this sheet, as well as the requests made by a number of Chinamen for a paper in their language, has led Yamaguchi to establish the new paper. Last March, Yamaguchi returned to Japan and there had the type for the new paper made. This he brought back with him when he returned to Los Angeles a few days ago. All is in readiness to begin publication now excepting that a few Chinese compositors must be found and also an editor. There is a scarcity of educated Chinamen in this country and the management is having a hard time to find the men needed. The Chinese as a rule do not care much for the daily newspapers. They belong to the Old World to a great extent and are not up-to-date enough to edit a paper. As soon as a man is found the paper will be published.

Typesetting for a Chinese paper is an entirely different matter from typesetting for a journal in another language, for there are more than 11,000 characters in use. When one recalls the statement of Chinese sinologists that the sayings of Confucius require 7000 characters, this seems to be a moderate estimate. The Chinese language is derived from 214 root words, which expand into the 4000 or 5000 words of daily use, and the thirty-four thousand of the dictionary.

It requires 11,000 spaces to hold a font of Chinese type. The large cases, or false partitions, are ranged about the room and divided into spaces for each individual type, each a word complete in itself. A Chinese printer, it is estimated, can arrange 4000 characters in a day. The work has been carefully systematized, and the characters have been arranged according to their formation. A simple character designates its group and the elaboration of form is the elaboration of its meaning, as our terminatives and prepositions elaborate the root.

A division is devoted to the simple character that stands for "wood" and all of its amplifications. In this space or column are to be found "box," "bed," "apple-tree," and so on, through a long list of objects pertaining to the word of wood. Should an author want to use the word "wood" in his composition, an idea of the labor involved in the requirements.

Comparing our combinations of letters and 10 figures, besides the symbols, an idea of the labor involved in the requirements. Systematized as it is, it takes men through a ten-hour day to set type for a modest four-page daily. A quaint sight it will be to see the Chinese, blue-coated Chinamen, gravely around the partitions, busily setting the type for the next day's issue.
